

SOME PLANKS

SOME PLANES

Of the Ohio Democratic Platform.

First—That the Democratic party of Ohio adheres to its ancient principles of securing equal rights and exact justice to all men, and to all the States and communities of the American people; of maintaining the independence of the co-ordinate departments of the Federal Government; the legislative, the executive and the judicial, from all encroachments of either.

tion of the functions of the others, assisting every attempt to usurp any of their powers by the Congress or the States respectively and to oppress people thereof.

Eleventh—That the freedom of the press is essential to the preservation of our rights; we denounce the attempt made by Radicals in the House of Congress, to suppress the proprietors of the principal newspapers of the United States to indictment and imprisonment in Washington City for libels, as an effort to revive and embolden legislation the spirit of the gag and censorship laws of the elder Adams adopted in Washington City for the overthrow of Brown, we hope forever, by the election of Thomas Jefferson.

Twelfth—That, while we admit the validity of all claims before the law, we are opposed to the extension of power made by Radicals in Congress to force social equality by unconstitutional pains and penalties, and we call the attention of the voters of Ohio to the same.

Unfortunately, he decided that our tute which provides separate schools white and colored children is constitutional law, and this decision is supported by recent judgments of the Supreme Court of the United States, yet the Civil Rights Bill, so called, which passed the Senate at its last session which is now pending in the House Representatives, seeks to overthrow the statute, and, in disregard and defiance of it, to compel mixed Schools in this, by the infliction of severe criminal penalties, and civil penalties.

thirteenth.—That we have seen with grief and regret the advocacy in influential quarters, of the election of a President of the United States for a period beyond that to which the traditions and usages of the country have almost given the sanction of a fundamental law; that such an election would be a long stride on the road to political monarchy and personal despotism, and we are decidedly in favor of establishing the one-term principle by an amendment to the Constitution.

THE New York Herald of Sept. 30, 1892, "we wish we could impress the Southern whites with a due sense of the importance of arresting and controlling these ill-boding tendencies. They cannot keep peace between the races nothing is more certain than that interference by the Federal Government, which nobody has so much reason to deprecate as the people of the South. They have had ough of this already and should not repeat it again. The precious right of self-government, so long impaired in the South, can be required only by patient efforts during a period of international peace. Their experience has taught them how monstrously even small distances are exaggerated by the intermediary portion of the Northern press and the inflammatory effect of such exaggerations in arousing passions of high political partisans are too ready take advantage. We appeal to thoughtful and patriotic Southern citizens to save their unfortunate section from the horrors and the new Federal oppression which would accompany a follow a war of races."

the same people, do the same thing. It produces a stagnant condition of the mind and heart that is very distressing to behold. There are thousands of invalids who might be greatly benefited by getting away from home, if only for a short time, to mix with strangers. They can be touched with the magnanimity of the great world as it courses its accustomed rounds. And there are mental and moral invalids who need the same change to cast their minds and hearts to long as the Southern people them-are determined to put an end to lawlessness from which they are suffering, it is well enough to leave them alone. Republican politicians are of course endeavor to make capital out of the troubles of the South. They will hold themselves up as the party of justice, purity and truth. The people, however, understand all this. They are tired of the late mobs and violence at the South. They do not wish to be taught anything concerning the Republican party, they teach that to

THERE is no class of men abused so badly by the public as editors. They are subject to a continual cross fire. One party urges them to pursue one course, another party will insist on their taking a directly opposite one; and the

It is, the are "damned if they do and damned if they don't." Others everlastingly denouncing newspapers as the great curse in the land, the fact is, editors are pretty much the same as other people—no better or worse—only knowing, perhaps, a thing or two, but getting a full share of the kicks and cuffs and abuse going around.—Murfreesboro Monitor.

bia, Tennessee, paper: "The monster, Neptune, of W. W. Cole's New York and New Orleans exposition, died at this place on the morning of the thirty-first of August, caused by the effect of the bad water which he had to use through Tennessee. His monster weighed fourteen thousand pounds, and consumed fifty pounds of fish daily, was caught in February, 183, off the coast of Alaska, at the expense of six thousand

TO RESTORE THE COLOR OF THE HAIR.—Pour a quart of boiling water into a pint of tar; let it settle, and apply the water daily with a small brush, until the hair thoroughly will prevent neuralgia. This preparation will give the head beautifully clean, make the hair glossy, restoring the color.

ONE may live as a conqueror, or a king, or a magistrate, but he must die as a man. The bed of death brings every human being to his pure individuality, to the intense contemplation of the deepest and most solemn of all relations, the relation between the creature and his Creator.—Webster.

estimated that 600 negroes have left the county since the 15th of May, the vastest of them having gone to work on the new railroads line, and others to seek their fortunes in the sunny South.